

THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY
Washington, DC

The January 21, 1994, Faculty Senate meeting was cancelled by the Executive Committee because of adverse weather conditions (ice and snow storm) and closing of the University. The January 21st meeting was postponed by the Executive Committee to February 11, 1994, the date of the regularly scheduled February Senate meeting.

FACULTY SENATE

MEMORANDUM

January 24, 1994

TO: Faculty Senate Members

FROM: Lilien F. Robinson, Chair, Lilien F. Robinson
Executive Committee of the Faculty Senate

RE: Postponement of January 21, 1994, Faculty Senate Meeting to February 11, 1994

Because of the inclement weather and closing of the University and subsequent cancellation of the January 21st Faculty Senate meeting, the Executive Committee, under authority of the Faculty Organization Plan (Section 1.(a) of the Bylaws of the Faculty Senate), has elected to postpone the January Senate meeting until February 11, 1994, the date of the regularly scheduled February Faculty Senate meeting. In view of the brief agenda scheduled for the January meeting, the Executive Committee thought this the most efficient way to proceed.

We trust that this meets with your approval.

A RESOLUTION ON GRADING EXTENSIONS (93/5)

WHEREAS, it is University policy to require all final grades be turned in within 72 hours of a final examination; and

WHEREAS, this time frame is problematic for faculty teaching large sections which are scheduled at the end of the examination period; and

WHEREAS, it is not practical to schedule all large classes at the beginning of the examination period; NOW THEREFORE

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE FACULTY SENATE OF THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY

That faculty teaching courses with 50 or more students who have examinations scheduled during the last three days of the examination period can contact the Registrar to arrange an extension in the submission of grades.
